

Lord Stjepan

I write to you with news of which may be of interest to you as I cannot help but be aware of it.

Men of your brother's lands have been building their forces in the recent defector Keliir's lands. My men report some two hundred forces have garrisoned themselves in Keliir, with fifty of those men cavalry. In addition, it appears many labourers have been called in to Keliir's land and are busy constructing about Keliir's estate. What they are building my men could not discern.

Beyond that regular patrols along Keliir's border have begun and are carefully examining travellers who pass through.

Yours truly

Lord Harcas
