

Lord Stjepan

My greetings and best wishes to you during these and future times of trouble. My people have been weathering the winter worse for wear, though we are strong of heart.

I am aware of the difficulties Pessern faces not just internally but from without, so I have no problems in providing you with what you require.

As vassals as per ancient writ their service shall be at your command for a period of one turn of Orhan. If you can arrange an escort I will have twenty of our finest Animists join with you in Pessern. There they will explain their capabilities and limitations.

Strength to Pessern and its leader
Lord Temeris
